

Graduating Residents 2002–2003

Justin P. Hawes, M.D.

Dr. Hawes is an alumnus of the University of Utah and a graduate of the University of Utah School of Medicine. He will be moving to Pittsburgh where he will continue his orthopaedic training as a fellow in trauma surgery at the University of Pittsburgh.

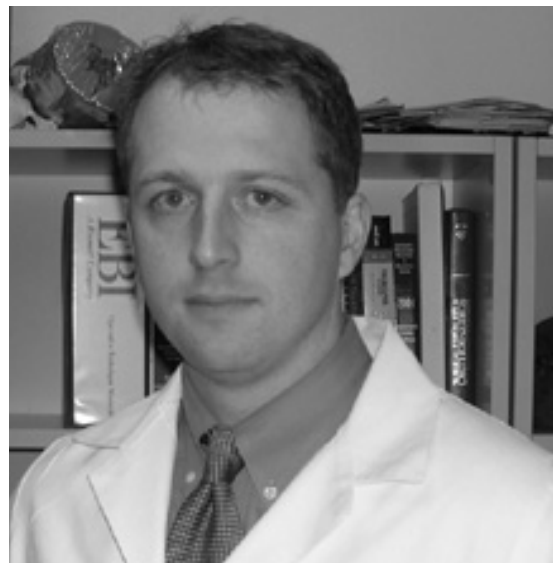

Daniel S. Lamar, M.D.

Dr. Lamar is an alumnus of Davidson College as well as a graduate of the University of South Florida School of Medicine. He will continue his orthopaedic training as a fellow in sports medicine at the University of Miami.

Paul Reynolds, M.D.

Dr. Reynolds is an alumnus of the Johns Hopkins University and a graduate of the University of Virginia School of Medicine. He will be moving to Germany to fulfill his Armed Forces requirement where he will be serving his country as a general orthopaedic surgeon.

Kevin J. McGuire, M.D.

Dr. McGuire is an alumnus of Princeton University and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine. He will be moving to Cleveland where he will continue his orthopaedic training as a fellow in spine surgery with Dr. Henry Bohman at the University Hospitals of Cleveland, Case Western Reserve University.

Samir C. Sodha, M.D.

Dr. Sodha is an alumnus of Rutgers University and a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine. He will be moving to Boston where he will continue his orthopaedic training as a fellow in hand surgery with Dr. Jesse Jupiter at the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Stephen B. Whitfield, M.D.

Dr. Whitfield is an alumnus of the Louisiana State University and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine. He will be moving to Eugene, Oregon where he will continue his orthopaedic training as a fellow in sports medicine at the University of Oregon.

Terry B. Lowry, M.D.

Dr. Lowry is an alumnus of the University of Michigan as well as a graduate of the Wayne State School of Medicine. He will be moving to San Francisco where he will join the Kaiser Permanente Medical Group in private practice as a general orthopaedic surgeon.